Where freedom's foe but falls before us?
With Freedom's sail beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

THE HOMESTEAD BILL.—The Chicago Tribune says the passage of this bill is mainly due to the efforts of Judge Potter and a few members. Judge Potter introduced the bill, and took an active interest in furthering its passage. We know of no measure Congress could adopt that, as time passes, will work a more beneficial effect upon the nation; and those who have labored for its passage have linked their names to an enduring good, and earned the present gratitude of all who regard the interests of tolling millions.

John F. Potter is one of the most faithful representatives of the people in Congress, and we are glad to see his efforts to promote the interests of the masses, properly appreciated and acknowledged.

Whaley of Virginia is the only border state representative that voted for the homestead bill. The nays were sixteen, as follows:

Messrs. Joseph Bailey, Jacob B. Blair, Geo. H. Browne, Corning, Crittenden, Dunlap, Grider, Harding, Mallory, Maynard, Mozzias, Norton, Shiel, Vibbard and Wickliffe.

LANE AND HUNTER.—We notice by the Chicago Tribune's dispatches that General Hunter is in Washington. It is to be hoped that this is preliminary to an arrangement of the Hunter-Lane imbroglio. It has not been creditable to any of the parties connected with it, least of all to Gen. Hunter, whose conduct towards Lane has not been that of a generous soldier, willing to give others a chance to serve the country, where there is room enough for all. Lane's expedition to Texas and the Indian country was not like Hunter's plan, which had Memphis for its destination. Why not permit Lane to go his way, according to the arrangement with the President? It would not have interfered with Hunter in the slightest degree, as it is apparent that he is preparing no expedition; and if he was, his ideas of the necessities of an immense transportation force to move a small army, as developed in the Fremont affair, show that it would take many months to prepare for a forward movement, while Lane is ready at any time. As the President is commander-in-chief, he can do what is right and proper, and no doubt will. It would appear to be absolutely necessary that something should be done immediately for the support and relief of the loyal Indians, some 12,000 of whom are waiting the action of the government.

We don't feel like making a "party" thing of the Fort Donelson fight, but we may with truth and propriety call it a democratic victory, for nearly all the troops there engaged were from "Egypt," Illinois, and of course were nearly all democrats. We feel proud of such democratic victories.—Madison Patriot.

We do not feel like raising a party question on any of the battles which have been or are to be fought to restore the government; but we may suggest to the Patriot, or anybody else who feels disposed to claim a "democratic" victory whenever our arms are successful, that the rebels in armed opposition to the government are mainly democrats, upon whom the old democratic party always relied for its political victories, and that if the rebels are beaten now by democrats, it is only a duty they owe the country against their rebel associates.

Are such "democratic" victories anything to boast of?

THE TREASURY NOTE BILL. recently passed, authorizes the secretary of the treasury to borrow $500,000,000, on six per cent. stock, redeemable at the pleasure of the government after five years, and payable in twenty years. Interest payable in coin, and the stock not subject to taxation by state authority. The bill also authorizes the issue of $150,000,000 in treasury notes, in denominations not less than five dollars, not bearing interest, at all times convertible into the above stock, to be a legal tender on all debts, and receivable for all taxes duties and claims due the United States. Demand notes already issued are not made a legal tender, but are to be retired.

IRON CLAD WAR STEAMERS.—The iron-clad war steamer which has been building at Mystic, Connecticut, since September last, has been brought to New York, and now lies at Greenpoint. The vessel, which has not yet received a name—was launched a few days ago, and will be ready to receive her armament in about one month from the present time, when she will be immediately prepared for sea. This is one of the three iron clad vessels whose construction was provided for at the last session of Congress. The Ericsson has made her trial trip, and will soon be afforded an opportunity of testing her fighting qualities. The third is building at Philadelphia, and will soon be clad with iron plates similar to those used on the British steamer Warrior.

It is said that when the Union gunboats approached Clarksalls a forest of white flags were flying; and that the more prominent and active secessionists had the greatest number of flags on their houses.

What Southern Papers Say.

The New Orleans Bee says that "the federalists have achieved triumphs in pursuance of a plan they never sought to conceal," and that "they have accomplished precisely what they originally planned as the objects of the campaign."

These successes, the Bee thinks, will encourage the "Yankees" that they will "bolster up a while longer the tottering fabric of their credit and commerce."

"They will stand the pressure of pecuniary trouble. They will give anew of their treasures to their mendacious administration, and will accept its paper promises based on the expectation of a speedy and signal victory. We anticipate, therefore, no relaxation or embarrassment in the preparation of the enemy to press the war. We hold, on the contrary, that encouraged by success and inspired by the belief that a display of additional energy, and the combination of the entire military and naval resources of the government, will assuredly accomplish in a few weeks the subjugation of the south, every nerve will be strained in furtherance of this object. North, south, east and west—at Richmond, on the coast of North Carolina, on that of South Carolina and Georgia, in Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee, on the Gulf of Mexico—at every available point, hostile demonstrations will be made, that anxious and tight-fisted folk around us in thousands and coils, and endeavor to suffocate and destroy us with a mighty pressure."

Notwithstanding this, the Bee has confidence in the resources of the south. But they must make a "supreme effort," and "every man must take an active part in the defense of the country."

The Bee acknowledges that they have been mistaken in the strength of the north—"they have thought too lightly of the power of the enemy"—"we have been impressed with the fallacious notion that one confederate was equal to three Yankees." "These ideas must now be discarded," says the sagacious Bee.

Since the occupation of Nashville by our troops, the merchants and real estate holders of Memphis have been taken with unconquerable desire to "sell out." The Avalanche says: "Quick sales and small profits used to be a motto, but now in some instances make sales their terms, profits or no profits—at least we guess so—just to see business moving forward. But such men usually make up on another trade what they may lose on a former one."

"Splendid suburban property," "eligible city property," "magnificent plantations," and notices of a like character, form the burthen of the advertisements in the Avalanche. This looks very much as if people were anxious to get away.

The confederate papers are down on whisky, and thereby show good sense. The Richmond correspondent of the Charleston Courier, Feb. 18th, says:

"From every part of Virginia petitions are pouring into the general assembly praying for the prohibition of the further distillation of grain into whisky. Within six counties, at least, two hundred additional distilleries have sprung up in the state. They are gradually absorbing all the corn as their profits are so enormous that they can afford to pay the highest price for it."

The family of the absent soldier, therefore, cannot compete with the liquor-maker, and is reduced to the point of starvation, while, on the other hand, the poor soldier is encouraged to destroy himself with the vilest stuff that ever ran down mortal throat. From a very slight personal investigation, I feel confident that orders to send the whisky to these Virginia Shylocks from the corn intended to feed the army as well as the women and children. It catenizes the mucous membrane of the windpipes, sets the brain on fire, and sends a cold tremor through the system. The soldier who indulges in a half dozen nips is likely to stay drunk for a week; and a second or third application drives the breath out of the body. This is the poison manufactured by man's cupidity out of the most essential gift of a bounteous Providence.

The legislature is acting promptly in the matter. The senate has passed a bill prohibiting the further distillation of grain, and authorizing the sheriffs of counties to confiscate all the corn found at liquor manufacturing. The evils of intemperance among the soldiers, particularly among those from the country, are doubtless apparent in Charleston. But even with your experience you can hardly imagine the scene presented in Richmond daily.

The city is crowded with re-enlisted soldiers on furlough. A hundred whisky-shops are open on Main street, and the whole city is in a state of fermentation. The soldiers are not only drinking, but are also indulging in the sale of the vilest stuff that ever ran down mortal throat. presence of cold steel. Let your aim therefore be to get into close quarters, and with a few decided, vigorous movements, always pushing forward, never back, my word for it, the soil of Virginia will be swept of the Vandals who are now polluting its atmosphere."

Last Night's Report.

CHICAGO, March 2.
Special to Tribune.—The following nomination were made to the senate, today, as major generals: McDowell, Burdette, Buell, Pope, Curtis, McDermott, C. F. Smith and Lewis Wallace, acting major generals at Fort Donelson. A brigadier general: Colonel Oglethorpe. Allie Cook, McArthur and Laman, w. commanded brigades at Fort Donelson. Col. Barry of Maine, and Ferry, of Connecticut, are in rank in the order named. Gen. McDowell thus outranking the rest, and Curtis outranking Sigel.

In answer to a resolution of the senate, the Secretary of War encloses the instructions of the adjutant general to Gen. Hunter, touching the Hunter-Lane expedition, dated January 2d. The order to General Hunter says: The general-in-chief in giving you this information, desires it to be understood that the command independent of you is not given to Gen. Lane, but he is to operate to all proper extent, under your supervision and control, and if you deem proper, you may yourself command the expedition which may be undertaken. Under these circumstances the general-in-chief will not give you a formal leave according to your application, but he authorizes you to absent yourself from your command for 30 days, at your discretion.

Herald's dispatch.—It is understood that arrangements have been made for the release from their paroles of all the officers of our army, regulars and volunteers, who have been sent on parole by the enemy. We have a host of prisoners, and there is no longer any need that single officer or private shall be any longer on parole.

ST. LOUIS, March 3.
A special to the Missouri Democrat, dated at Cairo 2d inst., says: A great light was seen in the direction of Columbus, last night. It is generally believed that the rebels there have burned everything of an inflammable nature.

The Memphis Appeal of the 23rd ult., has the following: "We have information from Nashville up to noon of Wednesday, Gen. Buell and Com. Foote had arrived and occupied the place. The United States flag was raised from the dome of the capitol, and floats there now. But one federal flag was exhibited, and that was from the shop of a yankee jeweller, who had long been suspected of disloyalty. The feeling in Nashville is strongly southern. Deep gloom, seemed to cover the community. Citizens avoid intercourse of any kind with the intruders. Two British flags have been raised by property holders, thus evincing their intention to claim protection of that government. The sick are being removed to Columbus."

We are pleased to learn that Beauregard is making prompt and energetic preparations to oppose the attack which now seems so imminent on Columbus. The reported capture of B. R. Johnson, at Fort Donelson, is incorrect. He arrived at Nashville, Saturday, having escaped from the hands of the enemy. Jeff Thompson left his old headquarters day before yesterday, on a secret expedition. He will turn up somewhere. Both houses of the Tennessee legislature met on the 27th, and adjourned for want of a quorum.

Concerning the president's (?) message, the Appeal says: He is free to confess the error of his past policy, and the extent of the disasters which have followed from the war, will soon be made in the advancing columns of the enemy; that we will attack, pursue and destroy, instead of being attacked, pursued and destroyed. The spade will be dropped, and the bayonet resumed; in other words, the policy of Fabius David will yield to that of Napoleon Bonaparte. In view of these facts we are light gleaming through the dark clouds that at present environ us, which will burst forth in less than sixty days in full resplendent lustre.

The rebels are said to be fortifying Island No. 10, five miles below Columbus, which place they will fall back on, as high ground is found on the island which is well adapted for planting batteries to command the river. Prominent officers believe that Columbus was burnt last night.

HOUSTON, March 3.
House.—Mr. Dawes, from the committee on elections, made a report on the petition of S. Ferguson Beach, asking to be admitted to a seat as a representative from the 7th congressional district of Virginia. The committee append to the report a resolution that Mr. Beach is not entitled to a seat. The subject was laid over.

The soldiers are not only drinking, but are also indulging in the sale of the vilest stuff that ever ran down mortal throat. From a very slight personal investigation, I feel confident that orders to send the whisky to these Virginia Shylocks from the corn intended to feed the army as well as the women and children. It catenizes the mucous membrane of the windpipes, sets the brain on fire, and sends a cold tremor through the system. The soldier who indulges in a half dozen nips is likely to stay drunk for a week; and a second or third application drives the breath out of the body. This is the poison manufactured by man's cupidity out of the most essential gift of a bounteous Providence.

The legislature is acting promptly in the matter. The senate has passed a bill prohibiting the further distillation of grain, and authorizing the sheriffs of counties to confiscate all the corn found at liquor manufacturing. The evils of intemperance among the soldiers, particularly among those from the country, are doubtless apparent in Charleston. But even with your experience you can hardly imagine the scene presented in Richmond daily.

The city is crowded with re-enlisted soldiers on furlough. A hundred whisky-shops are open on Main street, and the whole city is in a state of fermentation. From the Examiner, Norfolk, Va.
Cephalic Pills accomplish the object for which they were made, also: cure of headache in all its forms.

From the Examiner, Norfolk, Va.
They have been in more than a thousand cases with entire success.

From the Democrat, St. Cloud, Minn.
If you are, or have been, troubled with the headache, send for a box of Cephalic Pills; so that you may take them in case of need.

By the use of these pills the periodic attacks of Nervous Headache may be prevented; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained. They seldom fail in removing Nervous and Headache to which females are so subject. They act gently upon the bowels, removing constipation.

For Literary Men, Students, delicate females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system. The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from headache, whether originating in the nervous system or from a deranged state of the stomach. They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect safety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer the children.

THE want of an accurate and thorough History of the Rebellion, for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general regret. No work of this kind has yet appeared, and the public are compelled to turn to the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily press for the facts of the war.
To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value to all who are interested in the history of the war, a series of articles, each of which shall be sent forth in a form and at a price which shall render it accessible to all.

This history will tell the South as it is, give a clear and accurate account of the entire war, and contain consecutive narrative of events and incidents, from the first signs of the Southern Agitation, to the Final Victory of the Union.

It will be written in a style of plainness, and its theme will be the history of the war, as it is, and not as it is made to appear by the organs of the rebellion.
It will contain a full and complete account of the war, as it is, and not as it is made to appear by the organs of the rebellion.
